I was really surprised when I read the e-mail about only fourty people are injured in the war. I was hoping that my dad are ok. I'm really worried about him. If he is very injured or something worse? I want him back home faster so we can talk like in the past. When bad events are happening people do not worry about others but when their fathers and brothers are baking away from them in the war then starting to worry very much.

My advice for all the people who is know other people who lost their family because of the war - support and help them! They are feeling like in a nightmare and they are need a helping hand from anyone.

Stop this war! It's destroying the whole families and life.
